For over 75 years, our family has been bringing Kiwis the best of the world's wines, beers & spirits
Four generations on, we're still going strong

Is that the squealing tyres of summer we hear approaching? After such a sustained period of doom and gloom, we think we all deserve a bit of a lift. Have to say, there's nothing quite like a warm, sunny day to help that along.

If it feels a little like we're all emerging from our caves after an extended period of hibernation, that's because we are, a bit starved of everyday human interaction, freedom of movement and an actual summer and festive period where things resemble some form of normalcy (grim global scenarios notwithstanding). There is some degree of confidence that we New Zealanders are going to make it through next year, perhaps a little battered, but generally in an okay state. So, breathe in. Breathe out. Celebrate.

Heading into Christmas, we're doing a feature on our Top 20 Sparkling Finds, separating the wheat from the chaff (something we're really good at) to bring you a selection of wines for summer and the festive season that really do the business.

Of course, there's a lot more to follow that up: we're bursting with great gifting ideas, very cool wines, and some truly epic spirit offers (dive on in you rum, gin and whisky aficionados).

From our family to yours: have a safe and happy summer. We'll continue to bring the best the world has to offer to your door.

GLENGARRY

TOP 20 SPARKLING FINDS

Confession time: at Glengarry we harbour a secret obsession for sparkling wine. It's been a long time in the making, and through the endless tasting and testing we have become experts in all things effervescent. Whether it's top-shelf champagne or a $12.99 sparkler, we know how to sniff out the best of them, and that's exactly what we've done to bring you our Top 20 Sparkling Finds. From all corners of the world, they're world-class in their categories. Trust us, we've tried all those in between, and you don't want to.

YARRA BURN

Yarra Burn winemaker Ed Carr is one of the most awarded creators of sparkling wine in the world

22426
YARRA BURN PROSECCO
 NV | $13.99

CASE/6 $12.99/BOTTLE

A new Aussie Prosecco that's outstanding value. Vibrant and refreshing with fresh pear characters. Ed Carr has drawn on his considerable expertise to give this a rich and creamy mouthfeel. At just $12.99 by the case, it has to be your new go-to value sparkler for the festive season.

Fresh and fruit-driven with a gentle creaminess, this is Australian Prosecco at its best

20972
DE BORTOLI PROSECCO
 NV | $15.99

Given Australia's strong Italian contingent, it's no surprise that Prosecco is on the winemaking list there. De Bortoli's version is made from the Glera grape, same as in Italy. Fresh and fruit-driven, displaying hints of apple and pear, with notes of lemon and a gentle creaminess.

DE BORTOLI

De Bortoli's Yarra Valley holdings are huge. Three generations on, they remain family owned, adhering to the idea that sustainable vineyard practices will deliver exceptional fruit and environmental benefits. Italian family values passed down from founder Vittorio De Bortoli remain ingrained. There is a culture of hard work and of sharing good food, good wine and good times with family and friends.

TOSTI

The company name says it all: Tosti 1820 – the year that the Bosca family started making sparkling wine. Headed up today by the eighth generation, Tosti is located in Canelli, renowned for its Moscato Bianco grapes and recognised by UNESCO as a World Heritage Site. Tosti Prosecco is imported exclusively by Glengarry. It's our favourite Prosecco; one glass and you'll see why.

SANTA MARGHERITA

The Santa Margherita winery straddles the Italian regions of Veneto and Trentino-Alto Adige. Celebrated for their innovation, Santa Margherita led the way in 1961 when they applied traditional white winemaking techniques to Pinot Grigio fruit grown in Trentino-Alto Adige, creating today's famously fresh and crisp style of Pinot Grigio. The same meticulous standards are applied to the production of Santa Margherita's Prosecco range.

43010

SAINT-MEYLAND METHODE TRADITIONNELLE

BRUT NV | $17.99

CASE/6 $15.99/BOTTLE

One of our top-selling French methodes, the Saint-Meyland is a brilliant and cost-effective alternative to the champagnes found in its neighbouring region. Fermented in bottle for eighteen months, it employs champagne's method of production, the rich, yeasty toastiness declaring its irresistible credentials.

The Moutards apply their champagne-making skills to this great value sparkling méthode

41518

FAMILLE MOUTARD BLANC DE BLANCS

BRUT NV | $19.99

CASE/6 $17.99/BOTTLE

Champagne aces Moutard move just outside the Champagne region to get their fruit for this superbly priced méthode. Subtle floral and mineral notes support the peachy characters, with the 100% Chardonnay grapes taken off 20-year-old, sustainably farmed vines.

NEW STOCK IS LANDING SOON PREORDER NOW

MOUTARD

The Moutard-Diligent family can trace their history of viticulture as far back as 1642, but it was not until the 1920s that they began producing their own impressive, softly textured champagnes. No slouches in the versatility department, the Moutards also craft Chablis and Crémant de Bourgogne wines out of their Burgundy estate, and from their own distillery offer an excellent line in cognacs and liqueurs.

AKARUA

Akarua are home to some of Central Otago's finest vineyard sites. They put a lot of focus on fruit quality, and in the winery employ minimalist, gentle techniques that allow the wines to express the purity of fruit and terroir. The consistency of Akarua's wines is impressive, their Pinot Noir, Chardonnay, Riesling and methode wines draped in gold and right up there with the best on offer.

CENTRAL OTAGO

Year in, year out, a consistently superb sparkler from one of Central Otago's most iconic wineries

10118

AKARUA
METHODE TRADITIONELLE
BRUT NV | $31.99

From one of Central Otago's most awarded producers, this is an elegant aperitif-style methode offering complex characters and biscuity nuances. Creamy, textural, beautifully fresh, it brilliantly evokes Central Otago's unique characteristics.

The Scotts do sparkling well. Silky & elegant, with a deliciously tart palate and a creamy mouthfeel

17590

ALLAN SCOTT
CECILIA
MARLBOROUGH CUVÉE
BRUT NV | $21.99

When the bottle is opened the wine pops into life with a fruity, floral character, dispensing notes of blossom, apple, pear and ripe red berryfruits. The palate is deliciously soft and fresh, with alluring complexity and a crisp, clean finish.

ALLAN SCOTT

One of the first to put a spade into its stony soils and plant vines, Marlborough original Allan Scott has forged an independent, family-oriented wine-making enterprise. Son Josh and daughter Sara have assumed control of the company and head up its production, management and development. Under their direction, the Scott family continue to produce an impressive array of lovingly crafted wines.

PERELADA

Spanish cava is one of sparkling wine's best kept secrets. Made vis champagne's traditional techniques, the difference is in the grapes, the Spanish cavas drawing on indigenous varieties Xerello, Macabeo and Parelada, which deliver their own unique set of flavours, fragrances and textures. Spain's warmer climate encourages ripe stonefruit characters and provides an added richness to the wine. Otherwise, the technique is just the same as it is in France. The biggest plus of all? The price.

The Perelada cavas are a scintillating blend of centuries of knowledge & cutting-edge modernism, numbering among their fans Spanish royalty and Salvador Dali

HENKELL
TROCKEN
SPARKLING WINE
 NV | $15.99
CASE/6 $14.99/BOTTLE

Germany's best known sparkling wine, Henkell Trocken is predominantly Chardonnay supported by an army of Blancs (Sauvignon, Chenin and Blanc de Noir). With its fine citrus bouquet, smoothly textured palate and fresh, lingering finish, this is your go-to low-price, high-quality sparkler.

HENKELL

Sparkling wine is extremely popular in Germany, where it is known as Sekt. In the early 1800s, many Germans made their way to Champagne to learn its secrets. Some stayed to found famous champagne houses, while others returned home with their acquired knowledge and established the local Sekt industry. Henkell & Co. was founded in 1832, and today has around 3,500 employees and ownership of a wide range of wine brands across the globe.

LUC BELAIRE

Brett Berish, the charismatic entrepreneur who developed Armand de Brignac Ace of Spades champagne, has reappeared with a group of wines and spirits that is taking the world by storm. One of them is Luc Belaire, currently America's fastest-growing premium sparkling wine brand. Its Rare rosé, a delicious sparkling rosé from Provence, is outselling all other French rosés in the USA. PREFERENCE
PREMIER CRU
NV | $74.99
CASE/6 $69.99/BOTTLE

With its vibrantly fresh minerality, the Preference embodies the spirit of the J Lassalle house. A smooth and fruity palate evokes characters of pear, apple, peach and apricot, underlined with notes of liquorice and fennel. Unassailable quality.

CHAMPAGNE J LASSALLE

Boutique producer J Lassalle is run by three generations of women, with half the small-scale, 120,000-bottle production heading to the United States. Production is very traditional, with stainless steel, no use of oak, malolactic and 8-9g/L dosage. Lassalle have 16ha of vineyard, all in Premier and Grand Cru. There's a definitive house style: one of delicacy, freshness and unassailable quality.

CHAMPAGNE
CHARLES HEIDSIECK

Charles Heidsieck’s provenance is immense, the energetic, extroverted Charles-Camille Heidsieck – made famous in the song Champagne Charlie – founding Charles Heidsieck in 1851. The wines are matured 25 metres underground in chalk cellars dating back to the 11th Century; they represent some of the most underrated and exquisite champagnes ever made.

CHARLES HEIDSIECK BRUT RÉSERVE
 NV | $99.00

Chef de cave Cyril Brun is stamping his own touch of genius on this distinguished brand. At his disposal is the largest collection of reserve wines in Champagne. Plump, fleshy and opulent, the Charles is a triumph. Deeply golden with a complex and voluptuous nose, sun-drenched fruits, notes of pistachio and almond and layers of creamy texture.

CHAMPAGNE

A lovely mineral presence to this extra-dry champagne. Organically farmed, with only the first pressing used. No filtering, low sulphur

49981
DRAPPIER
 CLAREVALLIS
 EXTRA BRUT
 NV | $99.00

Champagne Clarevallis (the name given by Saint Bernard to the abbey he founded) is made with grapes from the organically farmed Urville hillsides, tended since the 12th century. Notes of elderberry and violet, distinct minerality and a lovely balance from the discreet use of dosage (the addition of sugar after disgorgement).

CHAMPAGNE
DRAPPIER

Eight generations in, exponents of organic and traditional practices, the Drappier family employ minimal amounts of sulphur and a low dosage approach that bestows a dry and aromatic elegance upon their champagnes. The Côtes des Bar region’s first zero-rated carbon producers, the Drappiers use 90% recycled glass and 75% of the electricity is sourced from solar panels.

FEATURE WINERY

Rockburn

Rockburn have a winning way with Pinot Noir, honed over decades of absorbing the lessons of their searingly austere landscape and its idiosyncracies. There is no doubt that Central Otago and its extremes have charmed the enigmatic variety and made it feel at home, but it nonetheless takes fastidious attention to detail along with a hands-off, 'let the terroir do the talking' approach by chief winemaker Malcolm Rees-Francis and his team to produce these masterful wines.

The fruit is hand-harvested off the company's Parkburn and Gibston Valley vineyards. Each site contributes its own unique characteristics that provide the winemaking team with a palette of distinctive flavour profiles. Rockburn's outstanding record is not confined to their headlining Pinot Noir, but extends throughout the entire portfolio. At Glengarry, we've been championing Rockburn's wines from its inception back in 1991. What has always impressed us is the high standard and sheer consistency, year after year, that these wines continue to display. So yes, we're big fans.

bay of islands | The Landing

This Northland vineyard is bathed in sunshine and ocean breezes

You don't often hear discussion about the wines of Northland, yet Samuel Marsden planted the first vines near Kerikeri some 200 years ago. The Landing has continued to harness the richness and spirit of the area with the establishment of its innovative, sustainable vineyard covering nine hectares on a gently undulating slope overlooking Wairoa Bay. The vineyard's close proximity to the water means it enjoys a regular sea breeze, which keeps the vines dry, and coastal soil that imparts unique mineral flavours. There is no irrigation, meaning the roots have to push deep into the soil, encouraging enhanced levels of flavour and complexity.

Just a boatride from Auckland City, a beachfront paradise with vines

Man O' War is a superbly positioned piece of island paradise, with around 90 separate vineyard blocks across the eastern end of Waiheke and on Ponui. Individual blocks enjoy distinctive soil types and micro-climates. White varieties have been sited high on the exposed volcanic hilltops to catch the cooling sea breezes, extending their growing season and delivering concentration and minerality, while the red vines cascade down steep, sheltered clay hillsides, where the heat and drainage promote intensity and depth. Old World techniques combine with a New World approach to create unique expressions of this outstanding island terroir.

26 vintages in, one of the defining characteristics of pioneering Martinborough winery, Nga Waka, is consistency. Roger Parkinson has made every wine since their first vintage in 1993, and Vineyard Manager Mike Kershaw has tended the vines since 1996. A change of ownership in 2015 to Jay Short and his wife Peggy Dupey has seen a slow but steady stream of positive developments at the winery. The couple have worked with Roger on expanding their holdings from 10 hectares to over 20. The new vineyards have been renamed the Pirinoa Block and the Mike Kershaw Block, in recognition of Mike's 23-year commitment to Nga Waka.

marlborough | Lake Chalice

A proud original player in New Zealand's powerhouse wine region

Lake Chalice are intimate inhabitants of their land, its climate and its seasons. Under the oversight of Head Winemaker, Chloe Gabrielsen, they draw upon Marlborough's singular regional diversity via their unique vineyard sites. Mainstay of the portfolio is the black label Falcon series with its signature flavours. The Nest wines offer classic Marlborough varieties at affordable prices, while the Raptor wines are made from selected small parcels of standout fruit. Given the New Zealand falcon, the kārearea, graces all of their bottles, it's no surprise that Lake Chalice are proud supporters of the Marlborough Falcon Conservation Trust.

canterbury | Saving Grace

Beauty and style abound in this boutique Waipara Hills winery

Saving Grace is in the heart of the North Canterbury wine region, with the Three Deans range to the West and sheltered from the stiff sea wind by the Teviotdale hills. It can be a challenging place to grow grapes, the often fierce Nor'wester testing at times. Viticulturist Jean-Luc Dufour has tended the vines for over a quarter of a century, many of which he planted. A diversity of companion plants and the beneficial insects they encourage keep things in balance. Winemaker Krystal Palmer has experience across many facets of winemaking and has done vintages in Marlborough, Waipara, the United States and China.

Cloudy Bay launch a brand new look for their most iconic wine

The monogram embossed into the neck of Cloudy Bay's new Sauvignon Blanc bottle contains their founding date of 1985, in celebration of the winery putting New Zealand on the global wine map 37 years ago. The whole redesign, from its all-New Zealand glass, recyclable closure and embossed bottle to the elegant new shape is an apt reflection of the premium nature of the brand, a reputation that has been reinforced year after year by the unerring quality of the Cloudy Bay wines. Cloudy Bay's impeccable scorecard reflects the company's commitment to environmentally friendly winery and vineyard management practices.

APPELLATION Marlborough Wine

#askforAMW | AMW stands for Appellation Marlborough Wine, a trademark introduced in 2018 to safeguard the provenance of the region that first put New Zealand on the global wine map. Initially, AMW focused on Marlborough's famous mainstay, Sauvignon Blanc, but the scope has now opened up to other varieties. For a wine to have the AMW logo on the bottle, particular criteria must be met.

Firstly, the wine must be made from 100% Marlborough grapes, and grown in Marlborough vineyards that are certified by Sustainable Winegrowing New Zealand. Although this seems relatively straightforward, a closer look at many bottles will show you that the wines do in fact come from elsewhere. The way to ensure that your Marlborough-branded wine is actually from Marlborough is to look for the AMW logo. A second qualification is that the wine must be bottled in New Zealand. The final criterion is that the wine has been tasted blind and then approved by an independent panel of qualified winemakers.

The AMW logo is, then, a stamp of authenticity, and verification that your wine is 100% Essence of Marlborough.

PROVENCE ROSÉ

The world's only region specializing in dry rosé, Provence is strewn with vineyards from the Mediterranean coast to the foothills of the Alps, from Aix-en-Provence to Nice's famed Riviera. France holds the top position on the quality rose market with 29% of the world's rose wine production.

The AOP (Appellation d'Origine Protégée) designation is a guarantee of authenticity and production quality. Côtes de Provence, Coteaux d'Aix-en-Provence and Coteaux Varois en Provence constitute 96% of the AOP wines in the region. 91% of the wines produced by these three AOP are rosé, and in France, rosé wine has outsold white wine since 1994. With the AOP of Provence on the label, you'll be enjoying a pale-hued rosé that is fresh, dry, fragrant and food-friendly, quality and elegance guaranteed.

PROVENCE

Located in the village of Le Luc-en-Provence, La Mascaronne is a magnificent property. It was purchased in 2020 by Cos d'Estournel owner Michel Reybier, who reflects: 'La Mascaronne, it is truly unique. The vineyard is magnificent, and we work to cultivate it according to an utmost respect of Nature. Our approach goes beyond our Agriculture Biologique certification; we consider the ecosystem as a whole and feel it essential that we craft our wines exclusively from grapes grown at the estate.'

QUINTA DO NOVAL

One of the Douro's best-kept secrets, the Noval ports are as good as it gets

In the world of port wine, the more than 300-year-old Quinta do Noval is arguably the greatest house of all. State-of-the-art facilities allow Noval to produce wines of incredible complexity and finesse, most of the production coming from their own single vineyard located in Pinhão, at the heart of the Douro Valley. In its middle lies the tiny, cherished plot planted with ungrafted vines that are 100% Portuguese rootstock, untouched by phylloxera, from which the most famous port in the world, the legendary Nacional, is made.

Aside from their reputation as an iconic port producer, in recent years Noval have put more emphasis on still wine production, using indigenous varieties. The deliciously spicy and seductive red blend, Cedro do Noval, is made up of Touriga Nacional, Syrah, Touriga Francesa & Tinto Cão. Made solely from indigenous varieties, the Douro DOC Reserva is complex and structured, and demonstrates that the Douro can produce some very fine wine indeed. | AS

YEN

GIN

750ML | $89.99

Yen is the result of years of refining and perfecting by an award-winning mixologist turned gin connoisseur in search of a balanced London Dry style. A juniper-led nose with candied lemon, pine, and light florals. Sweet and tangy to taste, with a touch of pepper & liquorice that continues to shine in any good mixer.

SCAPEGRACE

90897

UNCOMMON LATE HARVEST GIN

700ML | $79.99

Warm, end of summer vibes in Hawke's Bay. The fruit crops have been brought in, but their scent remains in the air; tart, mildly sweet. Undertones of olive provide saline balance to the natural brightness here. A must-try in a Martini.

GINATO

99376

PINOT GRIGIO CLASSICO GIN

700ML | $59.99

Citrus forward, floral and intensely refreshing. The Pinot Grigio infusion comes from Sicily, the juniper from Tuscany, and with their powers combined this is distilled sunshine. Gold medal winner at the New Zealand Gin Awards in the Flavoured Gin category, and for very good reason.

93962 | HAYMANS
OLD TOM GIN

700ML | $54.99

An old school style with slightly more natural sweetness than modern palates may be used to, but delicious for it. Delicate, piney, perfect in a Tom Collins.

97423 | REID+REID
ZESTY LEMON GIN

700ML | $64.99

Coming straight out of Martinborough just in time for a hot Kiwi summer, the brothers Reid latest offering is vibrant, fresh and extremely thirst quenching.

UKIYO

99377

JAPANESE BLOSSOM GIN

700ML | $79.99

Locally grown barley is distilled into a traditional Shochu spirit, then distilled again with a range of botanicals. The shochu base means this is a gentle, softly textured gin. The cherry blossom botanical that provides the name is used with restraint, but is clearly present on the palate along with main notes of orange and mandarin. Every bit as beautiful as the bottle.

96665 | LITTLE BIDDY
HAZY SPICED APPLE
NZ BOTANICAL GIN

700ML | $89.99

Reefton's finest are back with another banger. Their Hazy Spiced Apple is extremely flavoursome, with ginger spice & nutmeg in harmony with the tart apple.

94022 | KI NO BI KYOTO DRY GIN

700ML | $99.00

Kyoto based Kinobi utilise a host of local botanicals, distilled separately in batches of 'Elements' to create one of the world's finest dry gins.

酒 Sake¹⁰¹

BREWING RICE INTO WINE

Sake has played a significant role in Japanese culture for centuries. A favourite of the Warrior Class, Samurai would symbolically partake of sake before battle. Often referred to as rice wine, sake production involves a brewing process more akin to beer (although not quite), and it is pretty much consumed as if it were a spirit.

Sake has its own specialised variety of rice, called sakamai. It is polished to remove proteins and fats, leaving the starch at the centre of the rice grain. The more that is polished off, the the higher the quality of sake. The polished rice is washed, soaked and steamed; a mould known as koji is introduced to convert the rice's starch to sugar and a yeast starter is added to aid the fermentation process.

The entry-level Junmai sake is brewed using only rice, water, koji and yeast. If alcohol is added, the sake is not a Junmai. There are many top sake that are not Junmai, and the addition of alcohol is a skill that is prized. Junmai may be heated, chilled or consumed at room temperature.

Honjozo are polished down to at least 70% and are not Junmai; they are easy to drink and can be served warm or chilled. Ginjo sakes are polished down to at least 60%. Ginjo is the term used when alcohol is added, while Junmai Ginjo means no alcohol has been added. Daiginjo are sake polished to at least 50%. When called Junmai Daiginjo, it means no alcohol has been added. The fragrant Junmai Ginjo and Junmai Daiginjo sakes are best served chilled, as heating destroys their subtleties.
